What We Offer:

Yahara provides professional contracted services which address business specific technology needs such as:

- Custom Software Development
- Collaborative Product Development
- Content and Document Management Solutions
- Business Analysis and Project Life-Cycle Management

Why These Services Will Benefit Your Business:

It is our goal at Yahara to allow your team to focus on their core competencies while we focus our resource talents on the design and development aspects. We accomplish this by collaborating with the customer through a "co-development" process. We design and develop specialized software products for customers that have envisioned a solution that will go to market as a commercial product. Yahara delivers products predictably, that is, "on time and within the customers budget".

How We Are Different:

- Focus On Life-Cycle Software Development
Unlike most IT consulting firms that focus on recruitment and placement of engineers onsite on a job to job basis, Yahara is focused on team-based, full life-cycle software development. This team approach allows us to attract and retain highly talented software engineers. When engaging with Yahara, our customers benefit from the collective experiences of a team rather than the experiences of an individual.
- Microsoft Gold Certified Partner
Yahara Software's MS Gold Certified Partner Program requires the highest level of applied technological excellence. This program enables our customers to leverage quality tools and resources from a vast network of MS Product Specialists.
- Develop and Utilize Collaborative Tools
Yahara has developed two commercial software products to facilitate project collaboration. Engage encourages teams to effectively assign and manage all tasks, issues, and risks. webShadow provides a mechanism to manage all project costs in a real time web-based environment. By leveraging these tools, our clients benefit from complete visibility of all activities throughout the duration of their project's.
- Fostering Long Term Relationships
Our employees are fortunate to participate on project teams within several organizations and across many disciplines. This allows Yahara to offer your team long term benefit's by providing an external perspective on successful product strategy and implementation methodologies.
